50 Favorite Flowers

Painting Flowers A to Z

by Sherry C. Nelson, MDA

In the beautiful pages of this book, you'll find painting instruction for the 50 best-loved garden flowers. Step-by-step, Sherry will help you understand each flower and paint it more exquisitely and realistically than you ever thought possible. Learn special techniques to yield blossoms that look truly lifelike. Declare an end to painting 'plastic' flowers! The final chapter puts it all together: how to create color harmony with a limited palette, understanding floral design, and choosing the perfect background. This book will help you become a truly skilled floral painter. A valuable resource; a book for your heart & soul.

A book to love - and to learn from.

$24.95    Personally autographed for you by Sherry

144 pages of the best flower instruction
Sherry's ever put in the pages of a book
PLUS hundreds of step-by-step photos by Deborah A. Galloway.

Painting Garden Birds with Sherry C. Nelson

A Fledgling Bluebird.. and a Cardinal pair are just two of the 11 very special, all-new projects included in this volumn. Barn Swallow in old window sill, Brown Thrasher, Ruby-throated Hummer with Fuchia...

$22.50

Your copy will be autographed by Sherry.

This book is a unique book for many reasons. Here's why it's different from other bird instruction books Sherry has done:

1. It's bigger, for one. 128 pages of detailed, explicit instruction.
2. The photographic step-bys are different too...so you can really see and understand the process of creating a bird with brush & paint.
3. There's more pages so each technique and every new painting challenge is dealt with in full - no skimping on instruction to fit a minimum of space.
4. Where especially difficult or challenging techniques are taught, there's a 'mini' lesson to explain more on the process.
5. And lots of extras you find nowhere else: photos of birds in the wild, field sketches and journal notes that bring life to the birds you are painting.

The Bewick's wren on an old watering can, the soft grays and pinks of the Mockingbird in the Magnolia branch - these designs are some of the very best Sherry has done - and are backed up with precise and exceptionally- detailed instructions for every step. You'll love the Chickadee, the Downy Wood--pecker, the Goldfinch, all with beautiful garden flowers.

Butterflies in my Garden

by Sherry C. Nelson, MDA

This marvelous little book has absolutely lovely florals - combined with the elegance of iridescent butterflies of all kinds. It's one you'll cherish...

Morning glories on a Lazy Susan, a perfect Rosebud on an antique shoe last. Spectacular Cattleya orchids and glowing Marsyas butterfly, on a jewel box. Petunias with Common blues - and a young Bluebird - on a ribboned tray.

Sunflowers.. Geraniums... Forget-me-nots.. each with their special butterfly. You'll love every one. Your book will be personally autographed by Sherry... Complete instructions, of course.

$9.95

Critters in my Garden

by Sherry C. Nelson, MDA

The third in Sherry's garden series, this engaging book features those critters, large and small, that seem to be a perennial part of everyone's garden.

You'll fall in love with Petunia (the Striped skunk) in the Petunias, the big-eyed White-tail fawn and Titmouse on the cover, baby Raccoons, the Rose-breasted Grosbeak pair with McIntosh apples, a cottontail and white rose... and a playful kitten chasing butterflies in the iris garden.

As always, complete instructions, painted step-bys, & beautiful photographs make the painting easy.

$9.95 and personally autographed!

Painting Garden Animals with Sherry C. Nelson, MDA

Struggling with fur and eye techniques? Love animals but don't know how to paint them? Fur and eyes can be the most challenging of tasks when painting critters. Here Sherry shows easy painting techniques that will make your animals look real. Complete instruction, step-bys for every stage - and hundreds of color photos will make it a pleasure to learn to paint your favorite garden animals. 144 pages.

This book covers the following important concepts that will help your painting:

1. A comparison of the varied kinds and types of fur so that you can easily see the difference between painting the coarse fur of a bear for example, and the fine short hairs of a chipmunk.
2. Examples of the various coat types exhibited by different animals and a summary of the steps used to paint them.
3. 10 different projects, each designed to teach special and unique techniques for fur and eyes. Several project pieces have additional close-up step-bys featuring the eyes, to help you learn to paint them as realistically as possible.

Projects in Painting Garden Animals include: Eastern Grey Squirrel, Cottontail in the Iris, Opossum and Young, Lop-eared Bunny, Gray Fox, White-tailed Fawn with Chipmunk, Bird Feeder with Chickadee and Chipmunk, Black Bear Cub with Nuthatch, Yellow and White Kitten with baby Chick in an old Scoop, and Puppy with Gosling. A fabulous book with hundreds of step-bys and lots of fur instructions.

The black stripe that is found on each plate is a design element used to unify the set, which varies in color and design. The backgrounds are done with a sponge roller and several different colors of acrylic, but using the same method, repeating the greens on every place setting, again to help coordinate the great variety of pattern and subject.

The Hummingbird Place Settings

The packets come with designs for both male and female, with information for ordering plates and liners, and with complete instructions, placement guides, inked designs and photographs of the set of plates and close-ups of the birds.

The painted chargers are used with glass plateliners, to serve on and to protect the basswood plates from food stains or other damage. The chargers are varnished to seal them, and may be wiped clean with a damp cloth.

Because we live in the Hummingbird Capital of North America, it seemed like a wonderful idea - to create 12 place settings to feature most of the nesting North American Hummingbirds.

The male is featured on the dinner plate; the female on the smaller dessert or salad dish. We serve our awed and excited guests on these chargers - and share with them our interest in these special birds at the same time.

Here are the first six, for your pleasure and enjoyment. May you paint them with joy and use them for many special celebrations.

New Still Life Packets...

These special pieces have been favorites with my classes since I designed them. It's fun to occasionally include birds, which add a little 'life' to a still life piece. Wrens, especially, seem to enjoy being a part of human things, nesting and roosting around the edges of our homes, whether ancient or modern. Enjoy these new techniques.
